1 THE CLERK: Appearances, please.

2 MR. GOLDBERG: Jeffrey Goldberg for the government
3 along with Mark Gjelaaj from Probation. Good morning, Your 4 Honor.

5 THE COURT: Good morning.

6 MR. BACHNER: Good morning, Your Honor. Michael 7 Bachner, B-A-C-H-N-E-R, on behalf of Mr. Salvatore Romano.

8 THE COURT: I think the first matter we need to take 9 up is that the defendant's plea was before the Magistrate Judge
10 to a two count information. He waived indictment and entered a 11 guilty plea. Is there any reason that the Court should not 12 adopt the recommendation of the Magistrate Judge that the plea 13 be accepted?

14 MR. BACHNER: No, Your Honor. We would suggest that 15 you adopt it.

16 THE COURT: All right.

17 [Pause in proceedings - problems with audio.]

18 THE COURT: Mr. Bachner, what I had asked earlier 19 dealt with the issue of the defendant's plea before the 20 Magistrate Judge. He waived indictment and pled guilty to two 21 counts of an information; one charging conspiracy to commit
22 securities fraud and the other a money laundering charge. I 23 asked whether there was any reason at all why the Court should 24 not accept the plea based on the Magistrate Judge's 25 recommendation.

1 MR. BACHNER: The answer is, Your Honor, we believe 2 you should accept it.

3 THE COURT: Does the government know of any reason
4 why I shouldn't accept the plea?

5 MR. GOLDBERG: No, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: All right. Well, I've reviewed the plea 7 minutes and it appears that there is a factual basis for the 8 defendant's plea to both counts and he knowingly and 9 voluntarily waived all of his rights, both in connection with 10 the waiver of indictment and the filing of the information and 11 his guilty plea so I'll accept the plea.

12 Now, is there any reason why we shouldn't proceed to 13 sentencing?

14 MR. BACHNER: No, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Have you read the presentence report?

16 MR. BACHNER: I have, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Mr. Romano, have you read your 18 presentence report?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Have you discussed it with your counsel?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I have.

22 THE COURT: Are you satisfied to have him represent 23 you?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: All right. Now, the first issue deals

1 with the guideline range and I believe that there is no
2 challenge to the guideline range? Is that correct?

3 MR. BACHNER: Correct, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: So the guideline range here is a total 5 offense level of 35 with a criminal history category of 3 which 6 is 210 to 263 months.

7 MR. GOLDBERG: That's correct, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Does the government believe that's 9 correct?

10 MR. GOLDBERG: It is correct, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: All right. I have a letter from you, 12 counsel, dated January 9th and a letter from the government
13 dated January 4th. It's a motion from the government.

14 First of all, counsel, do you want to be heard?

15 MR. BACHNER: I would, Your Honor.

16 Your Honor, the first thing I'd like to just address 17 is the guideline range situation. While we believe the 18 guideline calculation is correct we would ask the Court to 19 consider the following. It's indicated in the report that in 20 2001 the guidelines were amended to permit the grouping of the 21 money laundering and securities fraud charges that the Second 22 Circuit in U.S. v. Zure had indicated was inappropriate.

23 Mr. Romano, although his behavior straddled, it 24 straddled by one month. In other words, the conspiracy charges 25 are produced [sic] December 2001 and the guidelines changed in 1 November 2001.

2 THE COURT: But aren't the 2001 guidelines if you
3 used them wouldn't it be higher even? In other words, if you
4 used the guidelines that are in effect today my understanding 5 was his guideline range would be higher even though he'd have 6 the grouping. Am I incorrect about that?

7 MR. GJELAJ: You're correct, Your Honor. In fact, I 8 believe -- I looked it up this morning as to both levels. That 9 manual [inaudible].

10 THE COURT: So you have to pick one. It's the one 11 book rule.

12 MR. BACHNER: Stay where we are.

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 MR. BACHNER: Your Honor, what I'd like to do, Your 15 Honor, is be heard, I think, on what is the most important 16 factors I'd ask the Court to consider.

17 Your Honor is aware that in 2003 or so Mr. Romano 18 voluntarily retained counsel, learning that there was an 19 investigation ensuing and --

20 THE COURT: Well, search warrants had been executed 21 on his place; right?

22 MR. BACHNER: Correct. While search warrants were 23 executed and, certainly, that was indication that there was a 24 problem afoot, Mr. Romano immediately came to counsel and 25 immediately said, I'd like to go in there and cooperate and

1 rectify matters. He did so without an idea if an arrest
2 necessarily would even occur. He did go in there and 3 interestingly enough, Your Honor, his decision to cooperate, 4 while certainly all decisions to cooperate have a self-5 motivation to them, Mr. Romano's decision, Your Honor, was also 6 motivated by, frankly, a desire to put a lot of this just all 7 behind him. It was an extremely stressful way for him to live 8 his life and I can tell the Court that in the at least twenty 9 proffers that I attended with Mr. Romano with the Manhattan
10 District Attorney's Office we would sit there -- and I don't 11 mean to make myself a witness to the proceedings but I was 12 there with mouths agape at the candidness of Mr. Romano, his 13 memory, his correcting mistakes that they were going under, 14 explaining to them the really complicated minutia of how the 15 crimes occurred. These were very complicated offenses with 16 monies being wired internationally with stocks being 17 manipulated up and down by a variety of brokerage houses
18 through nominee accounts that the D.A.'s office was having a 19 very difficult time following. They had seized a boat load of 20 records but were having a very difficult time paring through 21 them because of the ostensible legitimacy of the transactions.
22 Mr. Romano was also enormously helpful in explaining to them
23 where the other parties fit in; some, frankly, he exonerated 24 and some he put into the mix more than the D.A.'s office at 25 that time had understood they were in the mix and some of the

1 individuals, Your Honor, against whom he gave this information
2 ultimately entered into cooperation agreements with the D.A.'s 3 office and I believe some of them ultimately had dealing with 4 the U.S. Attorney's Office on this as well.

5 THE COURT: Well, it's not clear to me what the 6 cooperation in the state led to. I mean that's not clear to me
7 at all. Were there other brokers? I mean Mr. Romano and Mr.
8 Quatrochi as I understand it ran these operations. They were 9 the two people in charge of sort of this multimillion dollar
10 fraud. So who did they give up in the state? The brokers?

11 MR. BACHNER: Well, not just the brokers, Your Honor, 12 and, frankly, I had conversations with the assistant D.A. in 13 that case who is now assigned to the case and he is Mr. Elson 14 Hoe. Elson Hoe is new on the case essentially, maybe within 15 months. The assistant who was running the investigation is no 16 longer at the D.A.'s office, he is in private practice. I've 17 been trying to get letters from them detailing this and I have 18 not, unfortunately, been successful in doing that but I can 19 tell Your Honor that there were numerous arrests and 20 indictments in the state system. Mr. Romano didn't just give 21 up people below him, there were people that in order for this 22 fraudulent conduct to work there were businessmen who owned 23 substantial companies. I mean I think one --

24 THE COURT: Is that the money laundering aspect of 25 it?

1 MR. BACHNER: And the manipulation aspect. There was 2 one individual who had a stake if I recall in a professional 3 baseball team. There were some very, very significant 4 individuals who ultimately began cooperating with the Manhattan
5 D.A.'s Office and started giving information as well to the 6 U.S. Attorney's Office in the Eastern District. So it wasn't 7 just a matter of giving information about people below him, he 8 was giving information -- and, frankly, they weren't even all 9 that interested in that at all, they were really interested in 10 the people whom he was dealing with who had interest in the 11 companies that were being manipulated.

12 THE COURT: What offense did he plead guilty to in 13 the state? I don't even know that.

14 MR. BACHNER: He plead guilty, Your Honor, in the 15 state to securities fraud. Martin Act violations.

16 THE COURT: Is it the same charges he pled guilty to 17 here?

18 MR. GOLDBERG: It's a similar charge. If I can 19 intercede for a moment, Judge.

20 MR. BACHNER: Sure.

21 THE COURT: The reason why a lot of this information
22 is not detailed in our letter is because Mr. Romano is in a 23 unique position where he has a separate cooperation with the 24 U.S. Attorney's Office and a cooperation agreement with the 25 Manhattan D.A.'s Office. The information that Mr. Bachner is

1 setting forth, my understanding is that's been called to the 2 attention of the sentencing judge in Manhattan.

3 THE COURT: Oh, you don't think it's relevant to me?

4 MR. GOLDBERG: I don't think it's entirely irrelevant
5 but, Your Honor --

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 MR. GOLDBERG: Here's my concern, Judge. My concern
8 is Mr. Romano pled guilty to charges in the state. He's going 9 to be held accountable for that in the state and he will get 10 whatever benefit the state judge wants to give based on his 11 cooperation in the state. The U.S. Attorney's Office -- the 12 help that Mr. Romano gave which was substantial -- and I'm 13 happy to echo Mr. Bachner's sentiments on that point -- go to 14 his federal charges.

15 THE COURT: But to what extent are his federal 16 charges different from the state charges?

17 MR. GOLDBERG: Well, first of all, I think the money
18 laundering charges are not in the state. I believe he pled 19 guilty to an enterprise corruption charge which is similar to a 20 securities fraud charge or a RICO charge containing securities
21 fraud. Mr. Hoe actually has been on the case somewhat longer 22 than Mr. Bachner may be aware but the reason why it's not set 23 forth, Judge, is because this is federal charges, federal 24 cooperation. Mr. Bachner is talking about state charges and 25 state cooperation.

1 THE COURT: Well, how do I take into account what he 2 did in the state? I don't take it into account, I just ignore 3 that and just consider here what he did for the Southern 4 District of New York and for the Eastern District of New York?

5 MR. GOLDBERG: It's a question that I actually 6 discussed internally in my office to a great degree and there
7 wasn't much insight on it because it's not a common occurrence
8 but, I mean our view is that it's a separate thing.
9 Unfortunately, there would be -- if you do it otherwise there 10 would be a certain level of double counting. That being said, 11 I don't want to in any way minimize the cooperation that Mr.
12 Romano provided at the federal level which was at a minimum 13 thorough, substantial. Everything that Mr. Bachner says is 14 accurate about that and I'll let him continue but I know he's 15 going to highlight in particular the risk to Mr. Romano's life 16 regarding his cooperation which I don't think was present in 17 the state context and so I'll let Mr. Bachner continue.

18 MR. BACHNER: Well, Your Honor, with all due respect
19 and I appreciate the kind words that Mr. Goldberg has said 20 about Mr. Romano, they're accurate, we think Your Honor should 21 be considering, frankly, all behavior for the following reason.
22 The state sentence pursuant to his plea agreement was -- he 23 pled guilty to an attempted RICO enterprise corruption act 24 charge. That sentence will run concurrent to whatever Your 25 Honor gives Mr. Romano.

1 THE COURT: That doesn't mean it can't be in excess
2 of what the Court --

3 MR. BACHNER: It can be. It absolutely can be in 4 excess but to the extent, Your Honor, I think that cooperation
5 rendered by a defendant pursuant to, you know, his cooperation 6 agreement and in other related matters, I think is --

7 THE COURT: Mr. Bachner, do you represent him in the 8 state court?

9 MR. BACHNER: I do, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: And are the charges different?

11 MR. BACHNER: There is an overlap. To the extent 12 that there is -- there is certainly an overlap of information, 13 Your Honor. The federal charges -- the state people did not 14 focus in their charges on the organized crime aspects of the 15 case to the state to the level that --

16 THE COURT: There's no organized crime allegation in 17 the securities fraud case is --

18 MR. BACHNER: There certainly is that.

19 THE COURT: In our case? Where?

20 MR. BACHNER: Not a specific allegation --

21 MR. GOLDBERG: It's not an organized crime indictment 22 but the securities fraud and money laundering that Mr. Romano

24 THE COURT: Oh, I know factually it relates to 25 organized crime but you haven't brought a RICO claim?

1 MR. GOLDBERG: NO. NO.

2 MR. BACHNER: The claim brought in the state court, 3 Your Honor, essentially focuses on the running of a brokerage 4 house as an enterprise and --

5 THE COURT: But you have no claim -- you're not going 6 to go back to the state court and claim that his sentencing 7 here is double jeopardy for the state --

8 MR. BACHNER: No. No, we're not doing that.

9 THE COURT: So they're separate and distinct charges?

10 MR. BACHNER: Yes, there are, Your Honor, and 11 separate and distinct conduct as well.

12 THE COURT: I don't know -- I'm not sure what conduct 13 was covered in this indictment to the extent -- I mean because 14 the report indicates just a really long history of going from 15 one company to the next. Is that covered in the charge that 16 you've charged because you concentrate, it seems, on something 17 called Global Net.

18 MR. GOLDBERG: Global Net was, I believe -- the 19 assistant U.S. Attorney at the time focused on that because 20 there were some overt acts that were chosen on Global Net but 21 the securities fraud conspiracy that Mr. Romano and Mr.
22 Quatrochi for that matter were involved in was a wide ranging 23 securities fraud involving many companies that they were both 24 working for, running, selling securities for --

25 THE COURT: So like in Paragraph 18, does it cover

1 all of those stock companies there?

2 MR. GOLDBERG: Yes. Those were actually companies
3 that the defendant --

4 THE COURT: This was stock; right?

5 MR. GOLDBERG: Exactly. Those were the subject of 6 the fraudulent scheme. It's not necessarily where they were 7 working.

8 MR. BACHNER: I hope that

9 MR. GOLDBERG: I'm sorry. Can I just interrupt for a 10 moment because I think one thing that's important here is to 11 understand the chronology and Mr. Bachner might help me on this 12 because I joined the office in 2003 when Mr. Romano was going 13 to the Manhattan D.A.'s Office and approaching them for a 14 cooperation.

15 Mr. Romano's charges in this court were directly 16 related to his desire to assist the federal government in 17 rooting out organized crime's influence in the securities 18 industry and I say that because it wasn't a situation where the 19 U.S. Attorney's Office had an investigation going on, the 20 Manhattan D.A.'s Office had an investigation going on and they 21 both approached him and had him cooperate and plead guilty to 22 the charges. Mr. Romano was dealing with the Manhattan D.A.'s 23 Office, he was being debriefed thoroughly by them but their 24 focus and, frankly, I think -- and this may be not the right
25 word -- their competence in this area was securities. In fact,

1 the unit that Elson Hoe is in and that the predecessor
2 assistant District Attorneys were in was the sort of business
3 and securities fraud unit at the Manhattan D.A.'s Office. It 4 was Mr. Bachner's client who frankly suggested, hey, we should 5 get the FBI in here because I have things to say about 6 organized crime and that's when the Eastern District of New 7 York got involved and started debriefing Mr. Romano and it 8 became clear that he had information that was very valuable to 9 us and that his life was in danger and so that's why he pled
10 guilty to charges here, he could cooperate here, he did enter 11 the Witness Protection Program and so I just thought that might 12 be helpful to talk to you a little bit --

13 THE COURT: Well, I understood that reading it but 14 that doesn't have any impact on the nature of the crimes that 15 he pled guilty to.

16 MR. GOLDBERG: I agree.

17 MR. BACHNER: Your Honor appears a little troubled on 18 some matters and I'd like to see if I can help clarify any of 19 the things that trouble the Court.

20 I can tell Your Honor on the state level which 21 ultimately, as Mr. Goldberg said, at Mr. Romano's urgings went 22 to the feds not only because he felt that the state was just 23 not competent to deal with the organized crime aspects of this 24 case. Frankly, with all due respect to my old office, 25 competently and intellectually on a lot of the very

1 sophisticated matters that were going on here that the feds had 2 more experience in, Mr. Romano pushed and it created, I can 3 tell the Court, an enormous turf war there for a bit of time as 4 unfortunately happens in law enforcement and ultimately it was 5 all wedded [sic] out as to what he would plead to state-wise, 6 federal-wise, so there wouldn't be this double jeopardy issue.

7 MR. GOLDBERG: And where the cooperation would lie.

8 MR. BACHNER: Correct. And where --

9 THE COURT: What is the sentence he faces in state 10 court?

11 MR. BACHNER: He plead guilty, Your Honor, to a C
12 felony. The maximum is five to fifteen years and the minimum, 13 theoretically, can be probation. His sentencing judge is Judge 14 Hayes, Your Honor, who as Your Honor may recall was a federal 15 prosecutor for a bit.

16 Regarding -- and as Mr. Goldberg indicated, what was 17 happening as Mr. Romano began getting information on a state 18 level it became clear that the organized crime connection 19 became clearer and clearer and, frankly, the things that Mr.
20 Romano was being asked to do on a state level were like wearing 21 wires on people who had never had wires worn on them before and 22 if he had been caught would have been, frankly, killed in a 23 heartbeat. Mr. Romano felt that although he was willing to do 24 whatever the state wanted him to do he wanted the protection of 25 the feds who knew how to do this better and felt that they were

1 the ones who really should be controlling the organized crime
2 aspect of the case and that's when they were brought into it.

3 Mr. Romano, Your Honor, his cooperation in the case -
4 - I put this in my letter -- was not only, you know, in my 5 experience, frankly, again remarkable but really, really 6 unique. He met, Your Honor -- it was literally a full-time
7 job, I mean it became a full-time job for my office as well. I 8 mean we only went to twenty or so proffers if not more but 9 there were just so many more of those being held once he signed 10 his agreement. He would be spending hours and hours and hours 11 on a daily basis going through account statements, bank 12 transactions, looking at pictures, going through the wires that 13 he had been doing. I mean it was really a remarkable job and 14 the D.A.'s Office and I know the U.S. Attorney's Office in a 15 letter have commented on that.

16 Mr. Goldberg is correct, the impact that his decision 17 to cooperate -- and I say his decision, it was really a 18 decision by him and his family -- was one that not only put his 19 life in serious risk and for the Court to recall it's in my 20 letter as well. He was doing -- there were rumors about 21 potential cooperation by Mr. Romano while he was still out on 22 the street and he continued to cooperate even while those 23 rumors were out there hoping that through his ability, frankly, 24 as a very bright guy and a salesman to be able to convince them
25 that that was just all rumor and innuendo, it wasn't true, I'm

1 a stand-up guy, and he continued to do that and continued to 2 cooperate while his life was not only potentially at risk but, 3 really, we were very worried that it was in actual risk and 4 that he continued to live up to this agreement and to continue 5 to do what he promised the government he would do and, again, 6 Mr. Goldberg is correct, Mr. Romano's motivations for this were 7 not just, oh, I'm going to get arrested and I've got to work
8 something out, it was a decision that was made through this 9 wife, with children involved, to really understand the 10 ramifications of this and there was really a desire by Mr.
11 Romano not to live the life he had been living. It was 12 impacting on his family life, his children's lives. He didn't 13 want these people in his life anymore and there was a decision 14 to root out the problems that he had caused and he went to it 15 with the focus of a law enforcement official. It was really 16 quite something.

17 MR. GOLDBERG: Judge, I can intercede for a moment
18 and personally attest to the types of debriefings that Mr.
19 Bachner is referring to because I participated in many of those 20 in recent years, not the initial ones obviously.

21 Sitting with Mr. Romano is a very interesting 22 experience because he is so knowledgeable on these schemes and 23 his recall on level of detail is really astonishing and his 24 willingness to, frankly, have patience with people who may not 25 know it as well as they should is really a credit to him in

1 that regard. I've done that in face-to-face meetings over a 2 matter of hours and I've done it on the phone many, many times, 3 so I just wanted to personally comment on that aspect.

4 MR. BACHNER: Your Honor, when Mr. Romano decided 5 that he was going to try and change his life and go through 6 this cooperation situation he knew that it would be just a 7 drastic -- not only the risks that he was putting himself in 8 and his wife in and his children in, but it would be a total 9 separation from the life he knew before and the family he knew 10 before. Being in Witness Protection, Your Honor, they've had 11 to sever relationships with family, close family that they 12 haven't been able to see or have had I don't know if any 13 contact or limited contact with since then. The impact, Your 14 Honor, of his cooperation on his family has been such that his 15 youngest daughter is emotionally kind of scarred by it.
16 They've had to move from home to home until they settled. The 17 child sees a therapist, I think, twice a week. His wife, Your 18 Honor, this was as you can imagine her for better or for worse
19 sticking with her husband through this turmoil of their wife 20 hoping that Sal could get his life back together again and that 21 their family could take on some degree of normalcy again. He 22 has three young children, Your Honor, who are at the times in 23 their lives when they're most greatly impacted by their 24 environment, I would argue, and by the behavior of their 25 parents and I must say to the Court, much commendation to Mr.

1 Romano, that his decision to do this probably was at the best
2 time for his children, a time when at least they have a dad now 3 who is home, who is living honest, who is leading a law-abiding 4 life and he's actually turned into a sort of model citizen but 5 certainly a wonderful citizen. He's become charitable where he 6 lives. He donates active to the church, active in a variety of 7 charitable institutions I detailed for the Court. He has a 8 company in which he employs about ten individuals. He's making 9 an income. He's living, frankly, the old line about if you 10 could use what you've done for good instead of evil. You know, 11 he's decided that all those abilities that he had; his 12 intelligence and his ability to sell, to do the right thing, 13 he's now using the way he probably all should have done it and 14 I know his regrets that he hadn't and he's now living a law-
15 abiding, wonderful life in another community and the concerns, 16 Your Honor, that we have is although his guideline range is 17 high and I know Your Honor knows that under Booker it's 18 advisory for the Court, it's interesting that the six points he 19 gets really emanates is my recollection out of one criminal 20 conviction. It's a 1992 conviction where he's begun making 21 restitution payments on his own and I think because the conduct 22 occurred while he was within a certain amount of time of the 23 conviction while he was on supervised release, etc., it ended 24 up bumping him six points. So it's --

25 THE COURT: Because --

1 MR. BACHNER: I understand, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: -- the moment he got on supervised
3 release he got engaged in fraud again.

4 MR. BACHNER: He was a criminal, Your Honor, one
5 hundred percent, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Right.

7 MR. BACHNER: We're not attempting to minimize it but 8 it's not that he was committing -- I understand that, Your 9 Honor. He was engaged in lots of criminal conduct during that 10 entire time that he wasn't caught for it and that's what he's 11 cooperated about but it's not on the conviction end of it, Your 12 Honor, several convictions. It's one that's emanated in a lot 13 of points and I do understand and I'm not attempting in any way 14 to justify that conduct.

15 Your Honor, the guideline level that he has, the 16 locomotive behind that is the amounts -- essentially the amount 17 of losses that were sustained as a result of the conduct that 18 many individuals were involved in with him in connection with 19 this conspiracy. Mr. Romano, Your Honor, has tried through the 20 course of the last five years of his life -- for almost five 21 years of his life since he began cooperating -- really to try 22 and prove to himself, his family, society, law enforcement and 23 ultimately to the Court that for whatever you may think of Mr.
24 Romano, one thing that he didn't want Your Honor to ever think 25 of him was that he was going to be someone who was ever going

1 to be standing in front of you again. He's demonstrated for 2 four years of his life, Your Honor -- and I've been involved in 3 enough cases in my career and I know Your Honor has seen more 4 than I have that it's not uncommon for people who cooperate to 5 foul up; they get rearrested, they do the wrong thing. Mr.
6 Romano has demonstrated over four years that that's not a 7 likelihood. Every person has a risk of recidivism. I would 8 argue to the Court that his is through his behavior and not 9 through my words is a low one and the issue becomes, Your 10 Honor, what benefit is there to society to in a lot of ways, I 11 would argue, other than the punishment issue which is certainly 12 a legitimate sentencing point but I would argue in this type of 13 a case, Your Honor, that the punishment aspect of the case is 14 really far outweighed by the detriments. Punishment by 15 incarceratory sentence is really far outweighed by the harms 16 that it would cause not only to Mr. Romano's efforts but to his 17 family's efforts and how he's been living his life now.

18 Putting Mr. Romano in jail after he has been in 19 Witness Protection for four years, where he has created a law-
20 abiding life, where he has created a new identity --

21 THE COURT: Mr. Bachner, how does someone ignore the 22 fact that he engaged in a $40 million fraud? I understand that 23 the government has written a letter talking about his 24 cooperation and that the people that he cooperated against if I 25 understand it correctly are significant members of organized

1 crime but were not directly involved in the $40 million fraud.
2 They protected it if that's -- and were paid tribute if I have 3 it right. Do I have that correct?

4 MR. GOLDBERG: That is right. We would argue that 5 they were directly involved --

6 THE COURT: Because they protected the --

7 MR. GOLDBERG: Exactly.

8 THE COURT: But there were also allegations of the 9 solicitation of people to hurt competitors and also there is a 10 concern that I have as well about the information on Pages 9 11 and 10 of your letter.

12 MR. GOLDBERG: Yes, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: That, I take it, was a solicitation to 14 "obstruct justice"?

15 MR. GOLDBERG: It was and it's one that Mr. Romano
16 reported to the government as part of his cooperation --

17 THE COURT: Volunteered.

18 MR. GOLDBERG: Volunteered.

19 THE COURT: In other words, the government didn't 20 have that information.

21 MR. GOLDBERG: We did not and he was prepared to 22 testify about it as recent --

23 THE COURT: But what has been done about that 24 information?

25 MR. GOLDBERG: That information has been the basis --

1 one major basis of a disqualification motion. I can't comment
2 on any pending investigations in that regard.

3 THE COURT: Where was the plea taken to which that 4 relates? Was that in this Court?

5 MR. GOLDBERG: It was.

6 THE COURT: Before whom?

7 MR. GOLDBERG: It was Judge Sifton's case but Judge
8 Cogan actually took the guilty pleas of Mr. Camarano and Mr.
9 Scotto.

10 THE COURT: No, that's not what I'm talking about.

11 MR. GOLDBERG: Oh, I'm sorry.

12 THE COURT: I'm talking about --

13 MR. GOLDBERG: Oh, it was Mr. Minvera in the state 14 case. I don't know -- we tried to get older details but I'm 15 not sure. I believe it was Manhattan state court. It wasn't 16 federal, I know that.

17 THE COURT: It seems like somebody should be made 18 aware of what happened.

19 MR. GOLDBERG: I can't comment, Judge, on what we're 20 doing in that regard.

21 THE COURT: All right. I just meant in connection 22 with the individual Minerva should understand.

23 MR. GOLDBERG: I understand that.

24 THE COURT: I mean it's just troubling to read that.

25 MR. GOLDBERG: It is, Judge.

1 THE COURT: But I understand that that's something,
2 again, that Mr. Romano volunteered.

3 MR. GOLDBERG: Absolutely and, frankly -- and I hope 4 this comes clear in the letter -- the sequence of events with 5 regard to that case, I do believe that Mr. Romano's willingness 6 under his agreement to testify about those matters led in large 7 degree to the guilty pleas of Mr. Gamarano and Mr. Scotto which 8 alleviated the Court and Judge Sifton of what would have been 9 probably a six week trial. That was an extensive RICO trial.

10 Anyway, I didn't mean to interrupt, Mr. Bachner.

11 MR. BACHNER: But that is, Your Honor, the very kind 12 of honesty that Mr. Romano displayed in connection with his 13 cooperation. He didn't just volunteer what he thought they 14 knew, he told them everything that he had done that they had no 15 idea about and he put himself in that position.

16 Your Honor, there is a $40 million fraud here. We 17 all know that and it's a high number. That all being said, 18 Your Honor, there is also -- to the extent, Your Honor, that 19 this was a case that there was no cooperation on and we were 20 trying to work out a plea, etc., it's not uncommon, Your Honor, 21 for defendants to have losses apportioned in cases like this 22 and that he's essentially because he's a cooperating defendant 23 being assessed, frankly, in an amount -- again, without 24 minimizing the conduct -- often times an amount that's greater 25 than when a defendant works out his own disposition and I bring

1 to the Court's attention that Mr. Gamarano -- in the Gamarano
2 matter I understand that there was a -- it's detailed in the 3 letter that there was a plea entered by Mr. Gamarano, who 4 frankly was active in the securities fraud and no one disputes
5 that and while it was protection, he was certainly getting paid 6 percentages of what was going on in securities fraud and 7 Gamarano knew exactly about the manipulation of the stocks. I 8 think the plea agreement is somewhere in the three or four year
9 range for Mr. Gamarano.

10 THE COURT: Well, how should that impact the Court?
11 Mr. Goldberg, how does that impact the Court?

12 MR. GOLDBERG: Judge, as you know, we don't 13 [inaudible].

14 THE COURT: No, tell me how you think it impacts the 15 Court. Gamarano and Scotto, they enter pleas to offenses that 16 carried 33 to 41 months?

17 MR. GOLDBERG: That was a very complicated situation, 18 Judge, and in fact sentencing is still pending because Mr.
19 Gamarano's criminal history came in higher than what the 20 criminal history reports had indicated so his guideline was 21 actually according to Judge Sifton a bit higher. We're in the 22 process of briefing that issue and sentencing, I think, is set 23 for January 31st. I was in trial in Central Islip. I wasn't 24 at that proceeding but that's my understanding of what 25 happened.

1 These cases all have different circumstances and Mr.
2 Romano is a cooperating witness. Mr. Gamarano did not 3 cooperate, he pled guilty. I mean there were different charges
4 that he pled guilty to. He pled guilty to discrete extortion 5 charges. It's very difficult to say that that could be some 6 sort of guide post and I certainly don't want to suggest that 7 because as you know that's not what we do, we don't make 8 recommendations, that's for Your Honor to determine but I think 9 all of these things are relevant. Everything that we put in 10 our letter including Mr. Mariani's sentence in the Gotti case 11 but, again, it's all different circumstances, it's very hard to 12 use those as guide posts and I don't want to attempt to do so.

13 MR. BACHNER: Again, that all being said and I
14 understand Mr. Goldberg's position but, certainly, there is I 15 would argue to the Court some need to make sure that there is 16 some degree of equitable treatment amongst the way people are 17 sentenced and to the extent Mr. Romano, Your Honor, is looking 18 at the number he's looking at largely because he did cooperate 19 as compared to individuals who decided not to, I think that's 20 something -- it's certainly a factor that Your Honor should 21 give a lot of thought to and I assume Your Honor will.

22 Your Honor, but again, despite all the cooperation
23 issues and all of the things that Mr. Romano did which were so 24 unique in what he did I really do ask Your Honor to please pay 25 a lot of attention to and consideration to the impacts on the

1 Romano family and the impacts, Your Honor, of a jail sentence
2 to be very direct with Your Honor on what they've been able to 3 build as a result of turning over a new leaf and trying to do
4 the right thing, putting his life at risk on a daily basis,
5 Your Honor, for such a long period of time and, Your Honor, I 6 know lawyers always say my client has been punished enough, 7 he's been punished enough but, Your Honor, in a case like this 8 where the stress, the work and the effort that Mr. Romano has 9 put in to try and rectify a lot of the harm that he's 10 committed, that stress, Your Honor, was a time so significant 11 on him that he didn't know if he could proceed. It was one in 12 which he woke up every morning wondering if he was going to be 13 going to sleep that night. He went to bed at night wondering 14 if his children were going to be okay, if his wife was going to 15 be okay, and he understands that that's the bed that he made,
16 he understands that but the impact of Your Honor's sentence 17 will have such a direct impact on what will happen with his 18 family. The concern, for example, is that because Mrs. Romano 19 now relies so heavily and exclusively on Salvatore's ability to 20 earn for the family that she's concerned that because they've 21 now become so wedded to the community, to the social matter of 22 the community, the economic functions of the community that 23 they're just going to have to leave and they're not going to be 24 able to explain where Sal went, what's going on with Sal.
25 There's concerns that --

1 THE COURT: Don't the marshals continue to supplement
2 or not if someone has been relocated?

3 MR. GOLDBERG: Locating, they do. They do.

4 THE COURT: Hasn't the family been relocated?

5 MR. GOLDBERG: They have. I think --

6 THE COURT: So if Mr. Romano were to be incarcerated
7 wouldn't the family receive support or not? Financial support?

8 MR. GOLDBERG: I frankly don't -- no, I thought you 9 meant relocated again.

10 THE COURT: Oh.

11 MR. BACHNER: What would have to happen, Your Honor, 12 is that Mr. Romano has and in communicating with his wife, 13 their position is that they would have to -- they would just 14 have to start all over again. It would be too dangerous in her 15 mind to be able to consider, you know, explaining to the people 16 what's going on here and people making surmises did he go to 17 jail, what's going on, is there something else with this 18 family, and they're just -- you know, it's a very paranoid way 19 to live your life as it is and there's a lot of heightened 20 paranoia when things like this occur if you were to be removed 21 from the family. Again, much to Mr. Romano's credit as soon as 22 he got himself on his feet he severed himself from the public
23 dole. He didn't continue to take money from the government.
24 He wanted to make a living and do the right thing on his own
25 and that's what he did as soon as he was able to do it.

1 Your Honor, you know, people do change and we've seen 2 a lot of times people don't and, you know, tigers lose their 3 stripes. Mr. Romano, Your Honor, all I can say is like I said
4 before, through his actions and behavior over the last four 5 years has really shown him to be one of those unique and 6 remarkable individuals that have said, I am not going to do
7 this anymore, I do want to change and has. He really is not 8 the same person he was when he was living the life he was 9 living and I think when he made that decision, that epiphany
10 whatever it was, maybe it was the search warrant that woke him
11 up and said, I got to change my life, whatever that epiphany 12 was it's changed him and he's not that same person and, you 13 know, he's done so much and even the impact on the lives of his 14 employees, Your Honor, by him going away is significant. He 15 runs the place, he's the guy that generates the business. You 16 know, he's really created for himself a new world, Your Honor, 17 and I would ask the Court to consider the impact on his family, 18 the enormous cooperation he's given at the risk of his life on 19 a daily basis over the course of years, his desire and 20 availability to testify at very serious matters for the benefit 21 of the government and for the state, the fact that pleas have 22 been entered as a result of his knowing cooperation in cases 23 and that he's a person, Your Honor, who has really dedicated 24 himself to try and become a new person, that Your Honor take 25 those factors all into consideration and impose a sentence,

1 Your Honor, most respectfully, that does not include a jail
2 sentence.

3 THE COURT: Before I hear from Mr. Romano let me just 4 ask a couple of questions to you, Mr. Goldberg.

5 I take it in terms of Mr. Quatrochi --

6 MR. GOLDBERG: Your Honor --

7 THE COURT: My question is simply relative roles.

8 MR. GOLDBERG: Okay. Fine. Sorry, Judge.

9 THE COURT: I take it that his role was somewhat less 10 than Mr. Romano and his criminal history category was zero 11 before that; correct?

12 MR. GOLDBERG: That's true. His criminal history
13 category is zero.

14 THE COURT: And I wonder if you see him including the 15 entire picture to be less substantially involved?

16 MR. GOLDBERG: I've thought about that question at 17 great length, Judge.

18 THE COURT: It's one that needs to be answered.

19 MR. GOLDBERG: It does. It's a very difficult
20 question on many levels. Did Joseph Quatrochi know everything 21 that Mr. Romano was doing in connection with the securities 22 fraud and money laundering? I'd say essentially yes because of 23 the close relationship that Mr. Romano and Mr. Quatrochi had.
24 There's no denying that Mr. Romano's role in the securities 25 fraud and money laundering was slightly significant insofar as,

1 I think Mr. Romano would acknowledge --

2 THE COURT: More significant.

3 MR. GOLDBERG: -- more significant and I think he 4 would acknowledge that he had closer contacts to members and 5 associates of organized crime in the first instance.

6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes. Yes.

7 MR. GOLDBERG: Did Joseph Quatrochi piggyback on 8 that? Sure. But I think as Mr. Romano just indicated, he had 9 the connections in the first instance. I would also note that 10 -- I think Mr. Romano would probably also acknowledge and I'm 11 not certainly asking him to right now -- that it was Mr. Romano 12 who had the prior conviction and who had to sort of work in the 13 shadows and Mr. Romano needed Joseph Quatrochi to act as 14 frontman, perhaps, not the other way around.

15 THE DEFENDANT: Absolutely.

16 MR. GOLDBERG: I guess -- I don't know if that 17 answers --

18 THE COURT: But considering all factors including the 19 entire picture he would be a less substantial figure. That's 20 all that I'm saying in terms of -- 21 MR. GOLDBERG: Quatrochi would be?

22 THE COURT: Yes.

23 MR. GOLDBERG: Yes, but I don't want to minimize Mr.
24 Quatrochi's role.

25 THE COURT: I know you're not minimizing it but to

1 the extent we're talking about the entire picture including 2 whatever motions that may have been made, the motions are 3 similar to the -- I take it in their content --

4 MR. GOLDBERG: Yes.

5 THE COURT: All right.

6 MR. BACHNER: Your Honor, on that point that you 7 bring up we agree with everything that's been stated here but 8 one thing I think that's also significant is that my 9 understanding is that Mr. Quatrochi became someone who may have 10 been affiliated with the government at the urging of Mr. Romano 11 so while Quatrochi's involvement was less, had Mr. Romano not 12 cooperated there would have been -- it's unlikely that 13 Quatrochi would have.

14 MR. GOLDBERG: That's a fair statement.

15 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Mr. Romano, do you 16 want to say anything?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, if you don't mind, Your Honor.
18 I mean I'm sitting here and I'm listening to Mr. Goldberg and 19 Mr. Bachner say all these nice things about me and, believe me, 20 it's greatly appreciated and I guess your job is very, very 21 difficult because you listen to my attorney making argument
22 about why I shouldn't go to prison and you're looking at a 23 piece of paperwork that says that there were $40 million robbed
24 here and all I can do is maybe just try to clarify that a 25 little bit.

1 When this investigation began from the District
2 Attorney's Office and I agreed to go in and cooperate fully it 3 wasn't a fear of prison because, believe me, at that time I had 4 no fear of prison whatsoever, I really at that point wanted to 5 make a life changing adjustment and really get out of this 6 life. If you're in the life as long as me and you understand 7 how it's changed in the last ten years, believe me, it's not a 8 life you want to participate in back then nor now but I really 9 wanted out of that life.

10 THE COURT: Was it better before? I don't understand 11 what you're trying to say.

12 THE DEFENDANT: No, of course, it can never be better 13 but let's just say whatever little honor there was ten years 14 ago there's no honor today if that makes any sense to you.

15 So when we did come in and we did look to have this 16 out of our life and stop it and I started cooperating at that 17 time it was only with the District Attorney's Office and then 18 that precipitated into the Southern and Eastern Districts. So 19 a lot of the charges that are here against me I created by 20 mapping this out to them because as far as I'm concerned at 21 that time there was really no imminent investigation by the 22 FBI.

23 THE COURT: Well, some of the extortion conduct for 24 instance is something the government didn't know about that you 25 told them about.

1 THE DEFENDANT: Correct. Correct. But with that 2 being said, as I started to work and I started to wear a wire
3 and I started to become an informant and do all of this, this 4 became a full-time job for five years. This was consuming on 5 the brain, consuming physically, I got very, very ill during 6 this; Diabetes, so on and so forth and it precipitated that 7 condition. This was a horror show in my life for five years.
8 This was not a one week thing, a two week thing. You know, 9 we've done a lot of suffering but at the end of the day it's 10 still about the victims that lost $40 million.

11 First of all, if I could touch on that for a second.
12 You know, we had over $350 million assets under management. It 13 was about ten or twelve stocks that we manipulated and 14 controlled and not to belittle what that number was but 15 essentially those stocks ran up not only due to our 16 manipulation but due to the fact that the hot internet sector
17 in the late nineties, those stocks ran up to $20.00 or $30.00
18 without us. When that market blew up and those stocks came 19 crashing down to zero you had a major market correction. It 20 wasn't like Sal and Joe lined their pockets with $40 million.
21 Our take was more like ten.

22 THE COURT: Ten million?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Ten million. I'm sorry, Your Honor,
24 and I'm not minimizing --

25 THE COURT: Not a bad profit.

1 THE DEFENDANT: Of course, Your Honor, please. I'm 2 not minimizing that number. I would never do that. All I'm 3 trying to say is I have the ability to pay back $10 million.
4 I'm forty years old, I can work, I'm earning money in the last 5 two years -- six figures. I expect that to go to a high six 6 figures. If this case is about the victims and me paying it
7 back the only shot I would have is working. That's the only 8 way I can do that.

9 THE COURT: Well, that's another issue. Let me just 10 ask the government. I get letters here that say, you know, 11 restitution can't be calculated.

12 MR. GOLDBERG: It really can't, Judge, with respect 13 to the securities fraud. I think Probation put it best when 14 they cited the statute involving impracticable calculation.

15 I will note that there is an outstanding restitution 16 with respect to Mr. Romano's 1992 case. As of July it was 17 $675,000.00 that he owed. I know he has resumed actively 18 making payments on that but that is a number that's out there 19 that --

20 THE COURT: So what are the financial penalties
21 available here?

22 MR. GOLDBERG: Well, Probation has concluded that he 23 is unable to pay a fine. He's obviously -- I mean that report
24 was filed September 2006 and Mr. Romano is apparently doing 25 much better now. I don't know what Probation's position on

1 that is but he does have this outstanding balance of 2 $675,000.00 minus whatever payments he has made in recent 3 months.

4 I don't know if Mr. Bachner wants to speak to --

5 THE COURT: I didn't mean to interrupt, Mr. Romano, 6 you can go ahead and continue.

7 THE DEFENDANT: Oh, no, not at all. All I'm trying 8 to say is I've paid for five years and my family has paid for 9 five years and in addition to that, you know, I mean let's put 10 my family aside for a second, if this case is about -- in my 11 regard anyway, the victims -- then what I'm doing the last 12 couple of years now; working and earning and trying to do the 13 right thing, I've voluntarily took myself off any financial 14 subsistence from the government that they tried to give me. I 15 volunteered that I get taken off because I was doing well. I 16 began paying restitution and I volunteered that earlier from my 17 1992 case as well. Everything I've been doing now has been 18 driven by money and doing the right thing by the victims and, 19 you know, at the same token trying to earn back my wife and my 20 family's respect. My children were very, very young at the 21 time and didn't really know much about me outside of being 22 their dad. As they get a little older and they understand why 23 I'm working so many hours and, you know, that I'm trying to 24 earn and I'm trying to get back on my feet and they understand 25 that, they know nothing about my prior problems.

1 We're pillars in our community now because we've been 2 there for three or four years now and if I lose any of that 3 momentum, obviously, it's going to hurt the victims that lost 4 $40 million because I'm going to be unable to pay.

5 THE COURT: Well, nobody knows who they are so you're 6 not going to be able to pay them anyway. I guess you have the 7 restitution from Judge Dearie's case that you could pay.

8 THE DEFENDANT: Which I plan on doing as well but I
9 mean this has been very, very difficult for my family. I mean 10 my wife basically lived every day not knowing if I would come 11 home that day. She knew what I was doing, she knew I was 12 cooperating. I mean I just wish you could really understand 13 what it is I went -- for five years and it's very difficult 14 looking at ten pieces of paper to really understand the 15 magnitude of what we did here. This was never started by 16 twenty guys in a room saying let's rob the public today. We 17 dominated and controlled those ten or fifteen stocks and we 18 were the worst people in the world during that period. All of 19 that is changed. Every effort I make today is to pay back the 20 money. Every effort is to bring back my family's respect and 21 completely change my life. None of that was precipitated by my 22 fear of prison at the time when I went in. I went in because I 23 wanted out and I wanted to change everything. That's what 24 started this whole thing.

25 MR. BACHNER: Your Honor, I know Mr. Romano wants to

1 say one other thing but I didn't want to, frankly -- in my 2 experience I didn't want to turn the sentencing issue into a 3 money issue about how much was lost, how much wasn't lost, but 4 I do understand there's an impact on the guidelines.

5 One of the problems because it was impractical if not 6 impossible to find out who the victims were, it was really hard 7 or impractical to even determine, you know, if an investor
8 invested money, did he sell the stock for a profit, did he lose 9 any of that money? I'm not sure if that $40 million is in 10 other words the amount of money that the investors invested or 11 the amount of money that they may have invested and, perhaps, 12 they sold out at a later time. So, you know, sometimes these 13 calculations are based upon looking at the brokerage records 14 and saying the investors invested $40 million.

15 THE DEFENDANT: Can I say one thing in regard to 16 that? It also never factored in that a lot of the investors 17 didn't make money by the stocks rallying as well so I don't 18 think that number is offsetted [sic] by any gains as well.
19 It's very difficult.

20 [Pause in proceedings.]

21 THE COURT: I'm sorry, Mr. Romano, you were still 22 speaking. I'm sorry.

23 THE DEFENDANT: No, no, not at all. You just have no 24 idea how unbelievably sorry we are; myself, my family, how 25 we've lived and how we're trying to change things and how we

1 are. It's so hard that we're now set up in our new -- it's a 2 very atypical circumstance, I guess, Your Honor, the fact that 3 I didn't do jail time and then got thrown back into society.
4 After this happened -- and I lost everything; my respect,
5 credibility, family, we lost -- I mean we were a close Italian
6 family. We lost everything and everybody. My wife made this 7 move with me, we started over. It was very, very difficult but 8 for the last three or four years now it's been going so well 9 for all of us and I hope for the victims as well. I'm paying 10 back restitution. I did that voluntarily. I did not do that 11 to try to look good in your courtroom. I did it because 12 everything in my life has changed. We're trying to start over.
13 We have a little momentum now for the last 24 to 30 months that 14 we've gotten and it would just be a shame if we would lose that 15 momentum and I think everybody suffers especially the victims.

16 Thank you, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Goldberg, I think I asked you
18 a question before you got to say anything. I don't know if you 19 wanted to add anything further.

20 MR. GOLDBERG: No, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Well, you know, I think this is an 22 extraordinarily difficult sentencing. The Court has to 23 consider the factors under 3553 and the cases -- of course, the 24 case law with respect to the guidelines talk about the fact 25 that, you know, the first thing that the government has to look

1 -- the Court has to look at rather, or one of the first things 2 is at least to determine a guideline range. Here, the 3 guideline range isn't challenged, it's extraordinarily high.
4 It's 210 to 262 and that gives the defendant the benefit of an 5 earlier guideline calculation, one based upon, I think, the 6 2000 book because employing the guidelines today would make it 7 even higher. So that's the first thing that has to be looked 8 at is the guideline range and it's that high because of the 9 fact that this was an extraordinarily serious fraud that 10 happened over a lengthy period of time in which a great deal of 11 money was lost for investors. Now, you know, I recognize that 12 there may be some play in that guideline range and, you know, 13 it could arguably be somewhat lower than that but even if you 14 were to consider that an argument may be made that, oh well, 15 okay, we won't group, you know, or we will group the money 16 laundering, still, I think your best case scenario probably at 17 a guidelines range that is still very high which would be 18 somewhere in the neighborhood of 168 months, I think, even if 19 we were to consider those types of arguments. So the guideline 20 range is very high.

21 Now, the Court has to impose a sentence that's 22 sufficient but not greater than necessary to comply with 23 certain purposes that are set forth in Paragraph 2 and that's 24 the need for the sentence imposed to reflect the seriousness of 25 the offense, to promote respect for the law and to provide just

1 punishment for the offense and then as a general deterrent -- 2 to afford adequate deterrence to criminal conduct that's a 3 general deterrent feature. The Court has to consider the 4 nature and circumstances of the offense and the history and 5 characteristics of the defendant and, of course, one troubling 6 factor here is that Mr. Romano had a prior fraud conviction in 7 this court and engaged in this long course of fraudulent 8 conduct, began that while on supervised release for that 9 offense. So that is one of the factors here that the Court has 10 to take into account. There is other serious conduct of Mr.
11 Romano's that's set forth in the report that the Court as a 12 practical matter understands that this is conduct that would 13 have not come to light but for Mr. Romano's cooperation and his 14 forthright cooperation for the government. He certainly 15 shouldn't stand in a worse position before the Court because of 16 that. Certainly, he shouldn't be in a worse position because 17 he decided to cooperate as opposed to just simply entering a 18 guilty plea. So the Court understands and takes that into 19 account.

20 The Court has also taken into account the 21 significance of his cooperation. I take it it's the 22 government's position that the people that -- individuals that 23 Mr. Romano cooperated against are more significant individuals 24 than he in the criminal scheme of things. Is that correct, Mr.
25 Goldberg?

1 MR. GOLDBERG: That is correct. John Gamarano was a 2 made member of the Gambino family for decades. William Scotto
3 is currently a solidier in the Gambino family. Louis Mariani 4 was a long-time associate.

5 THE COURT: So, you know, that is an important factor 6 that he has offered cooperation against significant individuals 7 and in terms of protecting the public from further crimes of 8 the defendant I am prepared to accept what he says about his 9 genuine contrition and his desire to lead a new life.

10 I think under all the circumstances though in light 11 of the significance of the fraud and it was a very, very 12 serious fraud in which people lost substantial amounts of money 13 for which there was a guideline, obviously, the Court is going 14 to depart enormously from that guideline but in light of the 15 nature of the fraud -- and this is giving him full credence for 16 everything that the government has said about his cooperation
17 in accepting at all, in this Court's view a probationary 18 sentence would not be one that would comply with the factors 19 set forth in 3553(a) in light of both his prior conviction and 20 the significance of his criminal conduct. So I'm going to 21 sentence Mr. Romano to the custody of the Bureau of Prisons on 22 Count One for a period of 24 months to be followed by a three 23 year term of supervised release. I think there is some ability 24 to pay a fine in light of his enormous intelligence and his 25 business skills. So I'm going to impose a fine of $10,000.00,

1 as I said, a three year term of supervised release, a $100.00
2 special assessment. I'm going to impose the same sentence on 3 Count Two to run concurrently with the sentence imposed on 4 Count One, an additional $10,000.00 fine to be consecutive and 5 a consecutive $100.00 special assessment and, again, a three 6 year term of supervised release which is as well -- that would 7 be concurrent.

8 Is there anything further we need to take up?

9 MR. GOLDBERG: There is, Your Honor, there is the 10 matter of forfeiture. In the cooperation agreement the 11 defendant agreed to a forfeiture order of $332,500.00. If I 12 could have the Court just note that for the record and I will 13 provide the Court with a copy of the forfeiture order to sign 14 as soon as I get back to my office.

15 THE COURT: All right. Anything further that we need 16 to take up?

17 MR. GOLDBERG: The only other thing is I'd just like 18 to put on the record that I would just note that if Mr. Bachner 19 wants to request a fairly long surrender date that would be 20 consistent with the government's interest because there are 21 special procedures that need to be done to place Mr. Romano in 22 a witness security prison facility and that takes some time to 23 --

24 THE COURT: How long?

25 MR. GOLDBERG: I believe it's sixty to ninety days

1 but I will check. If we could do ninety days that would be 2 appreciated and if it's shorter I will contact the Court.

3 I was called by the Office of Enforcement Operations
4 and they did call that to my attention was that if Mr. Romano 5 does, indeed, get an incarceratory sentence, please ask for 6 some extra time as there are special procedures because we need 7 to make sure he's in the right facility.

8 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Holly, what is ninety 9 days?

10 MR. GOLDBERG: Ninety days would be fair.

11 THE COURT: To what extent -- what kind of bail 12 conditions are --

13 MR. GOLDBERG: A personal recognizance bond. I don't 14 --

15 THE COURT: To what extent is he -- he's only in the 16 marshal's custody in terms of transferring back and forth;
17 correct?

18 MR. GOLDBERG: That's correct and we have no problem
19 with that, Judge. Mr. Romano has been completely compliant 20 with everything we've ever asked him.

21 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Holly, what would a day -

23 THE CLERK: That would be Friday, Judge, April 11th.

24 THE COURT: Okay and the marshals handle that so --

25 MR. GOLDBERG: Right. I will communicate that.

1 THE COURT: All right. Is there anything else that 2 I've overlooked? Oh, Mr. Romano, I believe you have a right to 3 appeal. Any notice of appeal would have to be filed within ten 4 days.

5 MR. BACHNER: Thank you, Your Honor.

6 THE CLERK: Judge, what about a payment schedule for 7 the fines?

8 THE COURT: Well, the fines would have to be paid 9 within a year of his supervised release term.

10 MR. GOLDBERG: And I was reminded by Probation that I 11 believe Your Honor is making the finding about restitution 12 being impracticable under 3665.

13 THE COURT: I have nobody to order restitution to 14 because the information hasn't been provided to me and I accept 15 the representation that it's too difficult to do.

16 MR. GOLDBERG: Thank you, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MR. BACHNER: Thank you.
